

CURRICULUM VITAE

ANDREW MORRISON BSc MRICS

I am an established, senior Quantity Surveyor, with a career spanning almost forty years. During this time, spent exclusively within the Quantity Surveying industry, my experience has been comprehensive, covering public and private sectors throughout the UK, with commercial, industrial, leisure, office and residential build types, as well as a real diversity of projects, ranging from car showrooms to prisons.

Among the projects I have recently been involved in as client's quantity surveyor is a new production facility for Bison Concrete Products. This introduces a revolutionary precast concrete production system housed in a building some 600m long with a project value of c. £25 million.
